Western Student Athletes vs. Bullying

March 8, 2006

Alumni Hall • The University of Western Ontario • London, ON

On behalf of the Thames Valley District School Board, we would like to extend a warm welcome to all students, athletes and staff to this unique Safe Schools Initiative. We are committed to providing a learning environment where all students feel safe, valued, respected and welcome. It is exciting to combine our anti-bullying initiatives with Western Student Athletes to engage students in preventing violence. We are thrilled at this opportunity to host over 1200 students, in Alumni Hall, to present an anti-bullying awareness program. It is our hope that after seeing the dramatic presentation today you will recognize the harmful effects of bullying. It takes many people, working together to prevent violence in our schools. Joining in partnership with the University of Western Ontario's Faculty of Health Science, School of Kinesiology and Intercollegiate Athletic Program, strengthens all of our efforts and we look forward to future combined initiatives. We especially want to thank the people involved most directly as our partners in this event - the Student Athletes in the Sport and Community Service Course initiative.

Barry Wagner (Superintendent of Education); Susan Dale (Learning Coordinator – Safe Schools); Toni Wilson (Teacher on Special Assignment – Safe Schools)

Congratulations to the Sport and Community Service class for taking on this important bullying prevention initiative. Effective prevention programs require collaboration among all stakeholders. I applaud the leadership taken by Craig Boydell and his student leaders.

Western student athletes have long been involved with the London community in a vast array of outreach programs. In addition to benefiting the community this has been a great learning process for our student athletes. This year an Honours Seminar in Kinesiology enables student athletes to come together in a focused learning setting to study "Sport and Community Service" and enhance our efforts in this area. As a part of that course we are organizing several major events with community partners including this one on Bullying prevention. The students have already been involved in the community and a number have been honoured Provincially and Nationally for their achievements in Academics, Athletics and Community Service. Their dedication, work ethic, goal commitment, compassion and sense of fair play are qualities worth emulating. We are pleased to join with the Thames Valley District School Board in a program that challenges all of us to think about how we can support one another by saying no to violence, intimidation and bullying. Peers are present in the vast majority of bullying situations. Bystanders can be either part of the problem or part of the solution. You can make a difference. We hope you will find this experience both educational and entertaining and that it will help you become a more compassionate person and a more positive influence in your school.

Karenina Aguilar (Women's Basketball); Alanna Boudreau (Track and Field); Jacquie Edwards (Women's Rugby); Jori Hardin (Women's Volleyball); Alana Juzenas (Women's Basketball); Randy McAuley (Football, Track and Field); Peter McClelland (Rowing); Allison Oosterhuis (Women's Soccer); Jennifer Sulfer (Track and Field); James Yoon (Men's Basketball); Craig Boydell (Course Instructor and Head Coach Men's Basketball); Alan Salmoni (Director, School of Kinesiology); Mike Lysko (Director, Sport and Recreation Services); Jim Weese (Dean, Faculty of Health Sciences).
